

A circular phylogenetic tree showing the relationships between various bacterial strains based on their 16S rDNA sequences. The tree is divided into several major clades, with branches labeled by strain names. A legend in the top right corner indicates that grey circles represent 0 copies and white circles represent 1 copy of the gene.